Harsh Tactics Pay In Koje

Put Rebels On Short Food Rations

Koje Island, Korea, Thursday, June 5—(AP)—The last defiant Red flag was dragged down Wednesday from Red prisoner compounds by U. S. troops and there were indications rebels prisoners were put on short rations.

Bags of sand instead of food were delivered in ration trucks to tough compounds 85 and 96 a few hours after the troops, backed by tanks, entered hauled down Red flags and seized Red compound bosses.

A camp spokesman said Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, Koje commander, "knew nothing about" the delivery of sand but would issue a statement later in the day.

It was thought possible this was another weapon the command is using to assert its authority. Reduction of rations is a means of discipline permitted under the Geneva convention for treatment of war prisoners.

A soldier guard at compound 96, one of the toughest on the island, said as far as he knew no food had been delivered there since Tuesday night.

The sand was in bags of the type used for barley, prisoners opened some of the sacks, saw the sand, and left them at the compound gates.

There have been reports for two days that prisoners in some of the compounds, including 85 and 96, were on reduced rations. Compound 85 displayed a sign for a time saying the food supply was being cut and calling it a violation of the Geneva convention.

Boatner himself directed Wednesday's raids on compounds 85 and 96. When these came off without bloodshed, he ordered a third on compound 60.

U. S. soldiers of the second division's 38th regiment, who staged all three raids, marched 75 prisoners from one compound. Included were five prison bosses who were placed in isolation. Some of the other prisoners in the long line were believed to be anti-Communist.

Romanian Reds Purge Pauker, Six 'Anti-Marxists'

Vienna, Austria, June 4—(AP)—A deepening purge swept through the Romanian Communist ranks today in the wake of the disgrace of Ana Pauker, foreign minister and erstwhile satellite queen of Communism.

Bucharest newspapers reaching here said the party was purging "Anti-Marxists," a word now being applied to Mrs. Pauker, old time friend of Russia's Joseph Stalin and a fanatical Stalinist for many years.

The Bucharest radio described Mrs. Pauker and purged ministers as "enemies who proved their anti-Marxist tendencies by supporting the capitalist system."

The purge appears to be the result of a struggle for power in the Romanian Communist hierarchy. Contribution to the fall of Mrs. Pauker was the fact she was the daughter of a rabbi. Anti-Semitism is spreading throughout the Communist world.

Bucharest newspapers indicated the number of persons purged would be much larger than the published list. The published list mentioned only the top names.

Mrs. Pauker and the others appear to be handy scapegoats for Romania's economic troubles following on the monetary reform instituted by Luca.

Union, Steel Leaders Talk Thursday

Washington, June 4—(AP)—Congress members "aroused by the three-day steel strike locked in hot debate today on proposals to curb big labor walkouts and sharply revised wage stabilization policies.

Top executives of the striking CIO Steelworkers union and major steel firms meanwhile were called to the White House tomorrow for renewed peace talks.

The call to the White House negotiations, quickly accepted by union and industry, came when it appeared the disputants were about to get together on their own, without government aid. The Truman administration thus kept its hand in the tangled situation.

The storm on Capitol Hill was concentrated in the Senate, where extension of the Defense Production (controls) Act beyond its scheduled June 30 expiration date is being considered. There were two major Senate developments:

1. Senator Maybank (D-SC) proposed an amendment to provide a 120-day ban on strikes in defense-important industries, with a seven-man board empowered to recommend dispute settlement terms. The government could seize an industry if the board's terms were not accepted.

2. The Senate voted 42-41—with Vice President Barkley voting to break a 41-41 tie—to retain the present three-way Wage Stabilization Board set-up of public, labor and industry members, but make them subject to Senate confirmation.

The WSB's power to handle labor disputes would be restricted. Under the plan voted by the Senate the WSB could act in disputes only in cases where the union and management agreed to let the WSB step in. Even then it could act only on wage or "economic" matters, not on such issues as the union shop.

Previously the Senate banking committee had favored removing the labor and industry members from the WSB, leaving an agency of all public members.

A move by Senator Douglas (D-IL) to let the WSB remain as it is, retaining power to handle all labor disputes sent it by the president with or without the consent of the parties involved, was defeated 56 to 26.

Both the AFL and CIO had said they wouldn't go along with an all-public Wage Stabilization Board.

Nearly 725,000 workers were idle as a result of the steel strike. This included 650,000 members of Philip Murray's CIO union in the basic steel industry, plus about 75,000 workers in coal mines, ships, docks and railroads serving the steel industry.

Steel supplies were generally ample for the moment. However, government officials warned that some defense work, particularly jet aircraft production, may be hampered quickly.

The union has been standing fast on the recommendations the WSB made for a settlement. These called for a 26-cent-an-hour "package" containing wage raises and other benefits, and the union shop. The industry's last offer called for a 17-cent package but was understood to be contingent on government approval for higher steel prices. Workers now average nearly $2 an hour in earnings.

Battle Casualties In Korea Reach 109,159

Seoul, Korea, Thursday, June 5—(AP)—United Nations fighter-bombers ranged to within 15 miles of the Manchurian border Wednesday and blasted 67 holes in North Korea rail lines.

American Sabre jets chased off two Communist jets which tried to interfere. The Fifth Air Force said fighter-bombers also destroyed seven supply buildings and three rail cars. Patrol skirmishes were light along the muddy, 155-mile ground front. A hundred Reds were repulsed twice in probes south of Ponggang on the central front.

(The Defense Department in Washington said U. S. battle casualties in Korea had reached 109,159, an increase of 182 since last week. The new casualties included 23 killed.)

RAILROAD SUES OWNER OF TRAILER-TRUCK
Pekin, Ill., June 4—(AP)—Attorneys for the Toledo, Peoria and Western railroad today applied a new twist to an old story.

They sued the owner of a trailer-truck and its driver for $5,000 each for damages inflicted on a TP&W locomotive June 21, 1950, when the locomotive and the trailer-truck collided on a crossing in Eureka, Ill.

HERE'S WHAT GENERAL BOATNER IS UP AGAINST—Defiant, disciplined, hard-core Communist prisoners on Koje Island present a tough problem to Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, UN commandant of the rebellious prison camp. They not only fly flags and display posters in defiance of orders to remove them, but, as in a recent incident, raise new flags when UN forces destroy the standards. Their own "monitors" watch compound fences to prevent fellow prisoners from seeking haven with UN forces. Bloody fighting is expected to occur when prisoners are transferred to new compounds now being built, designed to split into smaller groups the more than 70,000 prisoners on the island.

Senate Kills Move To Suspend Wage, Price Controls

Washington, June 4—(AP)—The Senate tonight beat down a proposal to suspend all wage and price controls and then killed an amendment to take price ceilings off food and all farm products.

But the lawmakers—irate over potato shortages—voted to ban all price ceilings on fresh fruits and vegetables. Sponsors said this would apply only to potatoes because no other perishable is under ceilings.

Ohio's Senator Taft, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, entered the debate with vigor as the Senate labored far into the night on a broad measure to extend economic controls beyond June 30.

Taft favored both the proposal to suspend all wage and price controls, and the move to free farm products from price ceilings. But except for potatoes, supporters of continued controls held the upper hand.

Taft charged the Truman administration is deliberately trying to build up prices seemingly with the idea of promoting "the greatest prosperity by November '52." That's the month of the presidential election.

Taft said the inflation emergency apparently has ended and prices are falling generally. He accused the administration of "obvious" inconsistency, charging in effect that Democrats are talking against inflation while actually stimulating higher prices.

The proposal to suspend all wage-price controls called for them to be reinstated if the cost of living index goes up three points or Congress declares war. It was defeated 57 to 22.

The amendment to kill price ceilings on farm products was beaten 49 to 29.

High Court Holds Increase In Truck License Fees Legal

Springfield, Ill., June 4—(AP)—For the second time, the Illinois supreme court today upheld legality of steep increases in truck license fees voted by the 1951 legislature.

The higher truck charges provided for a boost of $20,000,000 annually in state road building revenue, effective this year, and $8,000,000 a year more starting in 1954.

The supreme court affirmed the murder conviction and death sentence of three Chicagoans and invalidated a law which made it hard for minor parties to get candidates for statewide office on the ballot.

Leroy Lindsay, Earle Burton and Emanuel Scott are the doomed murderers. Their electrocution was set for Sept. 12. The three were convicted in the tavern holdup slaying of policeman William Murphy.

In the truck case, the supreme court reiterated a March ruling that the higher fees are not unreasonable, discriminatory or otherwise in conflict with the constitution. A Kane county circuit court judgment to the contrary was reversed.

Actual collection of the increased truck charges has been held up by a court order, and at present licenses are selling at the old, lower rate.

However, under the order truckers have only until tomorrow to go through with their announced plan of taking an appeal to the U. S. supreme court.

Truckers fighting the higher fees announced tonight that an appeal will be filed with the U. S. supreme court tomorrow. Charles W. Mansfield, general manager of the Agricultural Transportation Association, said the law firm of former U. S. Senator Scott W. Lucas is handling the appeal.

COLLECT MORE SALES TAXES
Springfield, June 4—(AP)—State sales tax collections are running slightly higher than last year, the Illinois Revenue department reported today.

The tax produced $80,338,192 during the first five months of this year, up $244,602 over a year ago.

HEROINE COLLECTS BRAVERY AWARD

Chicago, June 4—(AP)—An 18-year-old girl today collected a $10,000 reward for heroism in dashing through searing flames to rescue her four brothers and sisters from their blazing home three years ago.

The funds, contributed by sympathetic citizens after the girl, Roberta Lee—then nearly 15—suffered severe burns in the rescue Feb. 17, 1949, had been administered by Roberta's legal guardian, Mrs. Mary B. Quinn.

Roberta, who still is undergoing surgery for the removal of fire scars, appeared today before Judge William F. Vaughn in probate court to assume sole control of the funds. She reached her 18th birthday May 16.

The funds include $9,500 in government bonds and $628 in cash. Roberta appeared in court with her mother, Mrs. Mildred Mason, and Mrs. Quinn.

The family now is living in a $17,000 house in suburban Des Plaines given them by the Chicago building trades unions to replace their former home. There are seven children in the family, including Roberta.

Judge Reserves Decision On Hiss Bid For New Trial

New York, June 4—(AP)—Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard today reserved decision on Alger Hiss' bid for a new trial of his perjury conviction.

The judge gave no indication when he might rule on the imprisoned Hiss' claim that he was convicted on faked evidence, including a planted typewriter.

The government today ridiculed the defense theory as "a combination of Grimm's Fairy Tales with a bit of Rube Goldberg on the side."

Hiss is serving five years in federal prison for lying in his denial that he ever betrayed his once-high State department office to a pre-war Communist spy ring.

In two historic trials, Whittaker Chambers accused him of stealing State department secrets for the espionage ring. Chambers said he transmitted the documents as courier for the ring.

The first jury could not decide Hiss' innocence or guilt. A second found him guilty early in 1950. All appeals to higher courts failed and Hiss went to prison March 22, 1951.

In asking a new, third trial the defense said the typewriter in evidence against Hiss was a fake machine "planted on the defense by or in behalf of Whittaker Chambers."

The machine was the one Chambers said Hiss used to copy State department documents for the spy ring.

The documents, themselves, also are under question by the defense, with the suggestion they could be fakes.

The defense also questions the testimony of a Negro maid who backed Chambers' tale of his association with Hiss and questions the date at which Chambers claims to have left the Communist party.

Chinese Air Force Chief To Tour U. S. Air Fields

Washington, June 4—(AP)—The Air Force said today the chief of staff of the Nationalist Chinese air force will arrive from Formosa about June 14 for a 20-day tour of air installations in this country.

Li Gen, Wang Shu-Ming will be the guest of the Air Force during his visit.

The Air Force said the tour was planned to give the visitors first-hand knowledge of air force operations in order to assist the Nationalists in their use of aviation material sent to Formosa.

The itinerary also includes a visit to Scott Field, Belleville, Ill.

Reds Use Force In 'War Of Nerves' In Free Berlin

Berlin, June 4—(AP)—Soviet soldiers and East German Communists resorted to tommy-gunfire and kidnapping of two women today in the war of nerves edging on free Berlin.

A U. S. military policeman on patrol was wounded and the quiet of a disputed cemetery was shattered by the burst of gunfire.

The German women were kidnapped from the British and French sectors tonight by mixed squads of Russian soldiers and Communist police.

The first abduction was done by two Russian troopers and four policemen.

They snatched a woman from the Spandau woods, in the British sector, and hustled their screaming victim into the Soviet zone before West Berlin riot police could answer the alarm.

Neighbors said the woman had been living in Ekkehard, a suburb the Russians seized this week.

A few hours later the second German woman was kidnapped from the streets of Hermsdorf, in the French sector, and taken across the boundary. She was hauled off by three Soviet soldiers and three policemen.

Russian soldiers fired warning bursts to emphasize to West Berlin police their claim to a burial ground on the French sector border in "tightening a security belt around West Berlin."

The French intervened and both sides agreed to submit the dispute to the Big Four commanders in the city tomorrow.

The U. S. military policeman was grazed and his jeep was damaged by a bullet fired by an East German border guard.

The Americans protested swiftly to the Russians.

Maj. Gen. Lemuel Mawhett, the U. S. commandant, denounced the shooting as "this latest example of barbaric and undisciplined violence by police under Soviet control."

He demanded punishment of the German in a letter to Sergei Dengin, Soviet political chief in Berlin, and assurance "that such deplorable incidents will not occur in the future."

The prisoners were told that guard Capt. W. G. Meadows would be suspended pending an investigation of their charges.

At first, the prisoners refused to leave the building or release the hostages until they saw the promise of an investigation "in a newspaper."

To save time, prison Director Walter Anderson and Warden Robert A. Allen persuaded the prisoners to agree to have a group of newspapermen on hand to hear their promise that Meadows would be suspended.

Three guards and seven civilian hostages had been seized by the convicts and locked inside the industrial building.

The prisoners took charge of the building about 1 p. m. State highway patrolmen in the immediate vicinity of Raleigh were alerted on a standby basis.

Prison Director Walter Anderson and Warden Robert A. Allen hurried to confer with the prisoners. The convicts complained about the food and one of the prison officials.

All other prisoners outside the industrial building were herded into their cells as soon as the trouble started today.

Deputy Warden S. B. O'Neal gave this version:

"When the prisoners returned to the industries building after lunch everything was in order and peaceful. Then we got word that the prisoners were holding the guards and foremen in the building. Temple (a foreman) telephoned the warden's office and said the prisoners wanted to see Anderson 'to get a few problems straight.'"

Anderson and Allen talked with the striking prisoners from a gate at the fence separating the industrial building area from the yard. Late this afternoon word was sent back to newsmen in the warden's office that a decision may be near in the disorder.

Vote Out Democrats To End Corruption, Ike Says At Abilene

Taft's Lead Narrow In S. Dakota

Sioux Falls, S.D., June 4—(AP)—A handful of uncounted outlying precincts held the answer to the narrow South Dakota Republican primary between Sen. Robert A. Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower tonight. Fourteen presidential convention delegates were involved.

The final tabulation will be Saturday when the official county canvass will be made.

With 27 of the state's 1950 precincts counted, Taft's supporters claimed a victory. Eisenhower's backers said they would not concede victory.

Twenty-one of the 27 missing precincts were in isolated areas west of the Missouri river.

The latest count with 27 precincts unheard from included:

Taft 64,612.
Eisenhower 64,050.
The percentage point, 50.218 for Taft and 49.782 for Eisenhower.

Taft's Washington headquarters were confident Eisenhower could not accomplish that feat and on that basis claimed victory for the Ohioan. Taft held the lead since 10:45 p. m. Tuesday.

Former Gov. George T. Mickelson, head of the Eisenhower slate, declared: "We're still not conceding the election to Senator Taft. That small margin out of approximately 128,000 Republican votes make the results of the official canvass still very much in doubt."

The race was the closest since 1936 when Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas edged out Sen. William E. Borah of Idaho by 257 votes in the South Dakota presidential primary.

As Sen. Karl Mundt (R-SD) put it in Washington, the results gave South Dakota's answer as "Bob and Ike, they like alike." Mundt remained neutral in the bitter primary campaign.

While Taft held the temporary edge in the count, there were more precincts unreported in territory Eisenhower had been carrying than in areas where the Ohio Senator showed strength.

Eisenhower ran his best race in the cities, larger towns and in the sparsely-settled ranch areas.

Taft overcame an early Eisenhower lead by picking up votes among farmers and small town communities.

The U. S. military policeman was grazed and his jeep was damaged by a bullet fired by an East German border guard.

The Americans protested swiftly to the Russians.

Maj. Gen. Lemuel Mawhett, the U. S. commandant, denounced the shooting as "this latest example of barbaric and undisciplined violence by police under Soviet control."

SCOTS TO WELCOME GIRL BAGPIPERS

Iowa City, Ia., June 4—(AP)—Members of the girls' bagpipe band of the University of Iowa and university officials received with pride and delight today the news that the band will be welcomed after all at Aberdeen, Scotland this summer.

The Scots of Aberdeen sued for peace with the university's Highlanders and five of their businessmen put up 250 pounds ($700) to bring the 65 piping co-eds there for an open air concert in August.

Even the Aberdeen town councilor, Frank Mayee, who had blocked a city appropriation to finance the visit, backed down and announced that band director William Adamson will be provided with some "real Highland hospitality."

This was pleasing news to Dr. Virgil M. Hancher, president of the university.

"It seems much more in accord with what we know about Scottish hospitality," Dr. Hancher said. "I had hoped for some such an outcome and I am delighted about it."

"I feel sure that all the fuss in the first place was based on misunderstanding."

So the girl Highlanders will leave July 13 on their two month trip abroad—with stops at Aberdeen, Edinburgh and Glasgow.

Says Russians Could Be Export Competitors

Atlantic City, N. J., June 4—(AP)—Russian engineering skill is described by an American engineer as "probably advanced enough to compete with this country for the export market in all types of machinery and vehicles."

The view is expressed by J. M. Davies, research director of the Caterpillar Tractor Co., in an article in the June issue of the Journal of the Society of Automobile Engineers.

Davies, basing his view of Russian engineering ability on two Russian-made tractors captured in Korea, said they are the best engineered of any foreign-made tractors he knows anything about.

While the captured vehicles are copies of a 10-year-old Caterpillar tractor, they disclose a complete re-engineering job, to conform with Russian manufacturing and engineering practices, machines and materials available.

When the Russian and Caterpillar tractor engines were tested, Davies says, their performance was so much alike as to horsepower and torque output and fuel consumption it was hard to tell them apart.

The Russians, Davies added, converted the Caterpillar tractor from the English foot system of dimension to the metric system.

That, he said, isn't as easy as it sounds. But the Russians had to do it and did it in their copying job.

Right now, he continued, the Soviet is offering "pretty broad" engineering services to the export market.

Among other things, Davies' article goes on, it is offering to design and build automobiles, motorcycles, tractors, highways and road construction machines, tillage equipment and radio and power stations, and to give assistance or consultation in various technical fields.

Davies says, "The Soviet might easily become our toughest export competitor."

He can deliver as advertised. Davies says, "The Soviet might easily become our toughest export competitor."

Stop Waste, Fight Graft, End Secrecy

Abilene, Kans., June 4—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told a rain drenched throng of mid-westerners today the Democrats had been in power too long and he implied the people must vote them out of office in November to bring an end to corruption in high places.

With his speech, the famous warrior—now in civilian clothes—waded into the fight for the Republican presidential nomination.

He began his speech by saying "You are experiencing a Kansas shower but I assure you it is not half as much water as there was in the English Channel eight years ago today."

This was a reference to the great invasion channel crossing which Eisenhower directed in 1944.

He called for an end to waste and extravagance in government spending, a foreign policy stripped of all "mystery," and continued cooperation with our allies in the fight against Communism.

Not once did Eisenhower mention the Democrats by name in his first out-of-uniform speech regarded as his opening bid for the GOP nomination.

But there was a strong throw-the-rascals-out tone to his speech when he said:

"Political health is endangered if one party, by whatever means, becomes permanently or too-long entrenched in power. The almost inevitable consequence is graft and incompetence in remote and even in prominent places of government."

"Obviously, this is something that applies today; one party has been in power too long in this country." (The word "one" was underlined in the text of his speech.)

His prepared text made no reference to the bitter struggle he is engaged in with Senator Robert A. Taft. Instead Eisenhower:

1. Held out the prospect of less spending on foreign aid. "I believe we can look forward to decreasing future costs without sacrificing the essentials of reasonable goals."

2. Spoke out against excessive taxation, and government spending. "Long continued taxes that are only a little below the confiscatory

MR. BOWN GOES TO LONDON

This column was interested the other day when announcement came that Elza Bown had arrived in London for a tour of English theaters. Mr. Bown is a memory player who first began his wizardry in Morgan county, Illinois, and for years has been mystifying audiences in this and several other countries. He employs no tricks or gadgets, which are our words and not those of a publicity agent.

Elza Bown's memory is a marvelous gift, which he has cultivated to a high state of perfection. The late Robert Ripley, who featured Jacksonville's famous street intersection with churches on each four corners, drew additional material from Morgan county for his "Believe It Or Not" strips in the newspapers. Mr. Bown and his mental gymnastics furnished another interesting subject.

Bown can memorize a column of figures of 4 digits
each instantly—moreover he can do this same act in Japanese.
Once he startled fellow passengers on a short steamship trip by calling 157 of them by their full names, giving their street addresses and cabin numbers, after having been just introduced to them in a group. At a civic club meeting he flabbergasted the members by referring to many of them personally during his demonstration, giving their names, addresses, business classification and wife's first name, after having received brief prompting during the meal by the chairman.

English are supposed to have a sense of humor slightly slower on the pickup than Americans. But their ability to recognize genius is probably the same as ours.
Elza Bown's tour of entertainment palaces and music halls of Jolly Old England, therefore, should be another triumph for this big, agreeable fellow whose brain never seems to rest.

THE COMEDIAN WITH
RADIO-ACTIVE TOES

BY HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—Henny Youngman
is known along Broadway as a man
so funny that even other comedians laugh at him.

This is rare, indeed, as most comedians regard each other in terms of jealousy rather than laughter.

But this "comic's comic" is different from most of the breed, who are given to private melancholy. He not only has spent his life making fun, but he is his life.

Henny, now 46, is one of the nation's top night club entertainers.

and Temple families but now Jane is saying:

"After we grew up, Shirley and I finally got together and now we're good friends. All that kid nonsense has been forgotten."

The grapevine's twisting with the report that Sophie Tucker's life story has finally been sold to Paramount as a Betty Hutton starrer. Sophie herself, I hear, was given the information last week.

Jean Arthur, who fled from reporters in Hollywood while she was making "Shane," is having interview
luncheons all over London with British newsmen and telling all. Even about taking courses in marital relations and the mysteries of the human body at USC.

CANTOR'S DREAM STORY

Eddie Cantor's casting dream for
"The Eddie Cantor Story" includes Ethel Barrymore as his grandmother and Anne Baxter in the role of Ida.
But the final decision is up to Warner Bros.

Speaking of Ethel: Those salty ballads which echo over the fifth green of the Riviera golf course are from the famous lady's throat. Her home adjoins the course and she's a warbling backyard gardener.

Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis are invading the kiddie record field with an album titled, "The Noisy Easter." It's fun-poking at members of the album set who slurp their soup. Bing Crosby is confiding to pals that his 13-year-old son, Lindsay, will study for the priesthood.

Alan Ladd's medics have prescribed a four-month rest for him
after he completes his next film at U. S. Social note: Rita Hayworth will Kirk Douglas' dinner guest at his home the other night. Diana Lynn's tackling her most challenging acting assignment—the role of pre-adolescent Southern girl in a summer stock tour of "The Member of the Wedding."

Pat Medina, accused by the British press of deserting English films, gave London newsmen something to grip over before she returned to Hollywood. Told them, did Pat, that she hasn't had any offers to work in British films.

ALLEN HOPES TO SCORE

It wouldn't be a quiz show, but a big TV audience participation game with an audience and mammoth prizes that will return Fred Allen to the home screens next fall. (Remember,
ah, remember, Fred's squawks about
"Stop the Music!")

The only resemblance to Groucho
Marx's "You Bet Your Life" Fred told me is that his show will be filmed and edited down to 30 minutes to "salvage the best of it."

Fred shrugged his shoulders about his zero score on TV to date, saying:

"They insisted that I do a show in the Milton Berle vein and that's a varicose vein as far as I'm concerned. I was panned. But then only ten per cent of the people in this country do the work. The other 90 per cent pan you or tax you."

It happened. Jane Wyman is no longer on speaking terms with Tristano Belfrage, who had hoped they could go on being pals-wed they despite wedding bells that didn't toll.

Lena Horne's Nichols Canyon home in Hollywood is for sale. She and hubby Lennie Haydon are planning to live in Paris. Cal Perry, the movie's crack stunt man, makes his film debut in U. S. "The Lawless Breed." Add daffy song tunes: Harry Rubin's "If I Had Your Money and You Had My Wife. What a Wonderful World This Would Be."

Terry Hatfield, last of the famous feudin' Hatfields, has written a film play based on the famous feud with the McCovs. She'll peddle the script to the studios this summer. Willard Waterman (radio's Gildersleeve)

The MATURE PARENT

There's No Power in a Parent
Quite So Healing as Honesty

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE

Lila's parents had just moved to a new town. Since she hadn't yet been able to thaw the coolness with which other children sometimes regard those who enter school in second terms, she had been quite lonely.

One day at recess, Lila overheard a discussion of a birthday party to be given that afternoon for the little girl up the street. So when she came home from school, she went to her toy chest. From it, she carefully collected all the colored marbles of her Chinese checked set, put them in a box, wrapped it in paper and tied it up with one of her new hair ribbons.

Then Lila went to the birthday party. As she climbed the porch steps, the little hostess opened the door. She stared at the uninvited guest, stuck out her tongue, screamed with laughter and yelled, "Go on home.
I didn't ask you to my party."

Lila went home. She did not feel particularly elated over what had happened to her. But when she reported it to her mother, she began to feel that she had been really mistreated.

"Oh, my poor baby," cried Lila's mother. "How cruelly you have been treated. Oh, what a terrible town to have to live in!"

Then Lila's mother burst into tears.

Why? None of us, not even children, can expect to be invited to everybody's parties. Why does this normal, inevitable experience of Lila's make her mother so emotional? Could it be that she is really angry at being uprooted from her own friends by Lila's father?

Could it possibly be that this nice person who is Lila's mother is really secretly pleased by her child's unhappy experience because it gives her ammunition to make her husband properly humble when he comes home tonight?

Perhaps. If so, we mustn't feel a bit superior to Lila's mother. She has no idea at all that she feels anything so human. She thinks she feels compassion for Lila, not an ordinary everyday emotion like resentment.
But it's there, bossing her around and she doesn't know a thing about it.

It would be good to know about it because honesty could rectify the damage her overemotionalism has done to her little girl. Honesty could put Lila's experience into perspective in no time at all were Lila's mother to blow her nose and smile at herself.

All she has to do is say, "Well, what do you think of me carrying on like that over someone who sticks out their tongue? But I'll tell you secret. I wasn't nearly so sorry for you as I was for me. A lady I spoke to in a store today turned her back on me. That's why I made such a fuss.
Come on over here and let's cuddle, you and I."

There is no power in us so healing, so creative as honesty. It is what keeps the watch on the house of our consciousness "that it be not broken down."

★ DR. JORDAN SAYS ★

Psychiatric Treatment Proper
In Some Cases of Overweight

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

This column is started with a quotation from a rather extraordinary letter received from a reader. She says:

"I have always had trouble keeping my weight down, and lately
have been taking pills that help to kill the appetite. After some time I consulted a doctor because of some menstrual disturbances. He told me
I was all right and advised no treatment, but told me I should consult
a psychiatrist."

"Of course, I refused and felt downright insulted, so that I forgot to tell him that I had been taking the pills. Do you think these pills could dry up a person's blood?"

This is the kind of story which irritates doctors no end. Here is a reader who, without advice, took drugs when she could not know whether they would have any harmful effects or not—though whether they would "dry up" a person's blood" is extremely doubtful.

Then, when she went to the doctor who found no physical condition responsible, she did not tell him the whole story and was insulted when he recommended that she consult
a psychiatrist.

It is quite well known that many persons suffering from overweight

may have some mental cause which is at least partly responsible. If a doctor she consulted felt that a psychiatrist might be able to help her in her problems, including that of overweight, she should certainly not be insulted, but realize that he is only giving the best advice he can.

People who are trying to lose weight often fool themselves by sticking strictly to their diet most of the time but eating between meals. They say to themselves, "I just won't count this."

Also, many people say that they eat practically nothing at all. What they mean is that they eat a small breakfast and small lunch, but at dinner—oh boy! Under these circumstances no wonder they do not lose as they think they ought to.

Eat Few Fats

Now the foods which can be turned into human fat most easily are animal or vegetable fats, such as fat meat, butter or margarine, and the starches or carbohydrate foods
which include grains, grain cereals,
sugar and potatoes.

Foods such as these can be cut out of the diet or at least taken in small quantities. They can be replaced with lean meat, fish, fowl, vegetables and fruits which are not too sweet. This is what is called a high protein, low starch and fat diet.

The World
Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

Washington, June 4.—(AP)—Taft
has one advantage over Eisenhower:
He's had more time to toughen his skin against criticism because he's been in politics longer.

This doesn't mean Taft can't be needed. His opponents already have done one big needling job on him
by saying the Republicans can't win
with him.

Taft nicked Eisenhower while the general was still flying home Sunday. Lamenting the condition of the air force, Taft said in a speech that American airpower had begun to deteriorate several years ago while Eisenhower was chief of staff.

It was such a clearly-aimed attack on Eisenhower it couldn't be overlooked by the general or the newsmen who attended his last military news conference before leaving the army.

The conference was billed as non-political. Asked about Taft's statement, the general explained at length he believes a strong air force is of first importance and had always urged it.

But Eisenhower didn't leave it
there.
Eisenhower said he'd like anyone who thought a war could be fought without foot soldiers, to tell him
how it could be done.

Taft, in his Sunday speech, hadn't claimed a war could be fought without soldiers but he scoffed at anyone, without naming names, who put too much reliance on bayonets.

This is just the start. It seems unlikely that these two heavyweights each trying for a victory over the other so he can get a crack at the title, may quiet down and go in for Gentleman Jim stuff from now on.

The contest between the Taft and Eisenhower camps already is the most bitter intra-Republican party fight in years. It may become so bitter they'll slug each other out of the title belt altogether. In that case, some dark horse would cop
the prize.

Eisenhower will have a chance to set the pace from now on, starting today, for in his speech and tomorrow's news conference at Abilene, Kas., he can show whether he intends to be gentle or try to knock Taft's block off.

Industry Executive Forecast
End of Free Bargaining in '49

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington — (NEA)— Clarence
B. Randall, 61-year-old president of Inland Steel Co., looks more like a college professor or a minister than the Harvard lawyer and iron master that he really is. Yet he is something of a teacher and a preacher, too.

The lesson and the sermon he delivers most often is on saving the free enterprise system. He thinks it is on trial before the world and possibly fighting a rear-guard action.

Mr. Randall first leaped into national prominence as the new apostle and philosopher of American business during the 1946 steel strike over pensions. Appearing before a three-man presidential board named to investigate this dispute, Mr. Randall declared:

"When the president announced
this board, it was an industrial revolution in America. Collective bargaining has been destroyed. It has been repealed by the president."

"And if this union strategy works
this time, collective bargaining will never come back. The precedent here established, reflecting similar attempts made in 1946, would commit us to boards and the government
wage fixing forever."

How right Mr. Randall has been in that prediction this far is shown by recent experience in the new steel wage case. In this dispute, Mr. Randall was radio and television spokesman for the entire steel industry in answering President Truman's fireside chat to the nation on seizure
of the mills to prevent a strike.

Mr. Randall says he has received a great deal of mail since his appearance over the air waves. Nearly all

I. C. Cast Will Stage "Macbeth" At Springfield

The Hilltop Players of Illinois College have accepted an invitation to present their interpretation of Shakespeare's "Macbeth" at the Springfield Theater Guild on Saturday evening, June 7 at 8:30 o'clock.

This is the Hilltop Players' commencement production which will be given in Jacksonville on the Ames Woodland stage Friday evening, June 13 at 8:30 o'clock.

Octavia K. Frees, the director, is working with the production crew, designing and constructing scenery that will be adaptable to two completely different types of stages.

Architectural settings are composed of a number of step and platform units so the many scene changes may run through rapidly.

The light plans for each scene are being rehearsed to express the moods of the play and facilitate the movement of the scenes.

Janet Haynes, is stage manager, and Robert Kunkel is stage carpenter, assisted with the scenery by Charlotte Bennett and Frances Kluz.

Properties are being assembled and cared for by Nancy Gibson, Helen Sellers, and Beverly Brown.

Edward Horton is in charge of the stage lighting, assisted by Arnold Rosen and Tom Olson.

Donna Postlewaite is in charge of costumes and makeup, assisted by Jody Falkenberg, Cynthia Clody and Mary Ann Dubois.

Florence Majewski and Lenore Cole are directing publicity.

GLASGOW MAN FINDS SEVEN LEAF CLOVER

Glasgow—According to mythical belief, the finding of a four leaf clover brings good luck to the finder. If that is true, Harry Young of Glasgow should have a near double dose of good luck coming his way. Young discovered a seven leaf clover near his home, about a mile west of Glasgow.

All seven leaves of the plant were perfectly formed. Five and six leaf clovers are occasionally found but the seven leaf variety is considered a rarity.

Passavant Aid Asks Subway For Route To New Area Hospital

A resolution urging a subway under the Wabash railroad on a street leading to the new Passavant Memorial Area hospital on the West Walnut street road was adopted by the Passavant Area Aid society during a luncheon meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Warner Newcomb, 409 Woodland.

The resolution, presented by Mrs. P. J. Davidsmeyer and Mrs. Ellsworth Black, pointed out that a heavy volume of traffic will cross the Wabash tracks to reach the new hospital, which is still under construction. Doctors, nurses, ambulances, employees and visitors will use one or more routes to and from the hospital.

The Passavant Aid society went on record as favoring and urging the construction of a subway at a suitable point, which would guarantee a free and safe movement of traffic to and from the hospital. Trains could not block emergency vehicles or threaten day-to-day traffic if a subway were constructed.

Included in the resolution was a request that all other crossings involved on the route to the hospital.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to the city council, Passavant Memorial hospital board, Morgan county commissioners and the Citizens committee of Passavant hospital.

Mrs. C. E. Cole, chairman of the hospital unit, reported on the activities in connection with the organizing of the Gray Ladies. A training school will be held each Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 3 p.m. and on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 7 to 9 p.m. Anyone interested in joining any of these classes may contact Mrs. Cole by June 16 for an application blank.

Mrs. Harry Lee Hall and Mrs. Richard Lukeman, chairman and co-chairman of the Gift Shop unit extended their appreciation for the generous help and contributions to the Shop on Hospital Day.

A report was given by Mrs. Herring, representing the Winchester unit, of the work being done by the society in that locality. Mrs. Margaret Watson of Bluffs reported the progress made by her group which was recently organized.

The board president Mrs. W. H. Pankhurst, announced the appointment of Mrs. Warner Newcomb as chairman of the ways and means unit. Board members voted to become a member of the Woman's Hospital Auxiliary program of the state of Illinois.

A pilgrimage Sunday to a boys' cottage at Normal, Ill. was discussed during the meeting. A group of local Legion members will take a fried chicken dinner to the 13 boys in the cottage sponsored by the 20th district of the Legion.

Glenn Williams, chairman of the junior highball league, reported. James Lakin, senior vice commander of the post and chairman of Legion awards, announced that medals have been presented to students in all junior high schools of the area.

June 16 Deadline For Derby Registration

Byron Lewis, chairman of the Exchange club's Soap Box Derby committee, announced Wednesday that the deadline for Derby registration is June 16, four weeks before the big race which will take place on Grove street speedway. "Any boy desiring to race must announce his intention by filling out a registration form at the Cornbelt Chevrolet offices on South Main street within two weeks," Lewis said.

The committee chairman also announced that members of the Exchange club will begin next week to take personal charge of contestants already registered and building racers. Each member of the club has been assigned to inspect the progress of one or more contestants periodically from now until derby day.

"According to the rules we are forbidden to help a youngster construct his soap box," Lewis pointed out, "and our purpose is mainly one of encouragement. We want to prevent any boy from becoming discouraged when he meets a knotty problem. We want to have a minimum of withdrawals. If we find a soap boxer encountering difficulties, we will help him find the solution by giving some idea where he might find the answer. Or if the boy lacks materials, we will help him locate them."

Race July 13

The Journal Courier-Cornbelt Chevrolet Derby will take place July 13. In case inclement weather forces a postponement, the race will be run a week later. As in former years a crowd of several thousand is expected to line the right-of-way to watch the prizes of Jacksonville and surrounding communities roll off the big ramp at the head of Grove street and head for the finish line below Westminster street.

Forty-one boys are now signed up for the classic. Latest to sign was Jerri West, 232 West Walnut street, sponsored by Gene Sporting Goods. Jerri is a veteran of soap box competition.

petition. Last year his sleek racer gave a good account of itself in Class "B" competition. He is entered in the same class again this year.

Jerri, who is a seventh grader at David Prince, told a reporter that "a year's experience should give me an edge in my class." He isn't discouraged, either, by the fact that a Class "B" winner has never won the local Derby. "I think that's a mere coincidence," he answered. "There's no reason at all why a Class 'B' winner can't take the championship. And I intend to do my best to be the first Class 'B' racer to do the trick."

Trophies Arriving

Frank Goin, manager of Cornbelt Chevrolet, said Wednesday that trophies for the race are beginning to arrive and that as they appear they will be placed on display in the big show window at the Chevrolet offices. The cup for the fastest heat, contributed by the Shell Oil Company, and a cup for the runner-up, to be presented by the Exchange club are now on display.

Goin added that "there are still plenty of wheel assemblies, brakes, etc., available at Chevrolet for boys who want to enter the Derby before June 16." He pointed out that "there are still six full weeks before Derby Day. And school need no longer interfere. You boys have plenty of time to construct your cars. If you would like to get into this competition of sportsmanship, you shouldn't delay any longer."

The Most Expensive Miles

That a Motor Car Can Travel

You, Mr. Motorist, will drive a lot of miles in the next six months—far more than you have been driving during the winter. Is your car fully prepared for the increased mileage of the outdoor season? Will you enjoy economical, safe, pleasant motoring?

Any automobile service man will tell you that a high percentage of the cars in operation today need service, and sooner or later will break down at inconvenient, if not dangerous times and places. Their owners are paying much more than is necessary for a mile of travel.

Because your car will run doesn't mean that it is in perfect mechanical condition. If it has not been inspected, tested and conditioned for summer driving you are going to have trouble no matter how smoothly it now appears to be running.

Service is our specialty. We would rather do an inexpensive, preventive service job than make the major repairs and replacements that result from a breakdown or an accident.

It will cost you little to KEEP your car up to par. It may cost you much to neglect it. Drive in and be sure.

HAPPIER LANDINGS

OVER the loudspeaker in the airplane came the voice of the radar operator, "You're on the beam and should 'break through the overcast.'" The pilot, glancing at the instrument board, slowly guided the plane through the mist and onto the landing strip at New York's International airport. It was another example of ILS (Instrument Landing System) in action. ILS, along with Ground-Controlled Approach, is taking hazards out of foul-weather landings. ILS consists of radio beams, one showing direction and the other the "glide path" of the plane. Where beams intersect is the accurate approach to field. The Ground-Controlled Approach is the instructions relayed to the pilot from the airport's radar operator, who guides plane by radar scopes.

Control tower men direct traffic as planes leave and arrive.

Airport controller watches a map of radio navigational aids mounted on face of radar tube.

New York's International airport had 90,000 incoming flights, mostly from abroad, in 1951.

Strawn's Club Holds Picnic At Rawlings Home

The 37th annual picnic and guest day of the Strawn's Crossing Woman's club was held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. E. Rawlings, east of Jacksonville.

A potluck luncheon was served at 12:30 p.m. On the domestic committee were Mrs. Lora Brainer, Mrs. John Whelan, Mrs. Clyde Trafton and Mrs. Robert Hopper.

The president, Mrs. A. D. Arnold opened the business meeting at 2 p.m. Mrs. Charles Curtis led the flag pledge and Mrs. Ethel Strawn, secretary, read the minutes of the picnic meeting the year before.

The program had been arranged by Mrs. Roy Robson and Mrs. Charles Bealmeier. Becky Lewis sang "I Love a Little Cottage" and Becky Bealmeier played a piano solo. "Little Johnny Jump-up." Vocal numbers presented by Rowena Lewis included "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," and

"Little Teddy Bear."

After the performances by the three children, Mrs. Roy Lewis sang "One Alone," "Sweethearts" and "My Hero." Becky Lewis appeared in a dance at the close of the musical section of the program.

Mrs. M. A. Summers was the speaker. She described her travels abroad, illustrating her talk with a display of souvenirs.

Guests were introduced during roll call. The club will next meet June 17 at Hamilton's cafe.

Mrs. Applebee Is Hostess To Unit Of Home Bureau

The Mound Unit of Home Bureau met recently for their June meeting at the home of Mrs. A. B. Applebee with Mrs. William Goebel as assistant hostess.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. J. A. Turner. She gave several announcements concerning coming events of interest to members.

Roll call was answered by members as they mentioned favorite books. It was interesting to learn that some members considered the cook book as a favorite. Other books were mentioned and members gave reasons for favoring these.

The minor lesson "Party Sandwiches" was given by Mrs. Frances King, the Home Advisor. She told members that the sandwich was originated many years ago by the Earl of Sandwich and thus it got its name. Mrs. King demonstrated the making of roll sandwiches and other specialties for parties. Those present agreed, after sampling, that party sandwiches were tasty as well as decorative.

Mrs. Willard Cody gave the major lesson which was a book review, "The President's Lady." This book, which dealt with Andrew Jackson's wife, Rachel, was based on many historical facts as Mrs. Cody pointed out. The different home places and financial conditions of Andrew Jackson were well described by Mrs. Cody. In a further discussion it was pointed out that Jacksonville, which was founded during the height of Andrew Jackson's career, was named for him.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Applebee and Mrs. Goebel served delicious refreshments to members and the following guests: Mrs. Dale Brainer, of Harmony Unit, Mrs. Sterling Martin of Charlton, Iowa, and Mrs. N. M. Pritchard, of Commerce, Oklahoma.

Plan Excavations At Indian Village Sites In Greene And Pike

Jacksonville will be the hub of operations for ten University of Illinois students, two of them coeds, who will spend the next six weeks digging into the prehistoric past of Illinois.

They are members of an archeology expedition led by Prof. John C. McGregor which will study ancient Indian village sites in Pike, Calhoun, Brown and Greene counties.

Headquarters of the U. of I. group, which is scheduled to arrive in the city Thursday, June 5, will be at Illinois College.

Two years ago an Illinois expedition working near Meredosia uncovered a Hopewell Indian home and gathered much information about the everyday life of these people. Considerable is now known about the Hopewells during several centuries centering on the time of Christ.

This year the Illinois archeological group will seek to extend information about prehistoric Illinois to before and after this period. Prof. McGregor plans to study a number of sites of ancient Indian camps in the counties along the Illinois river.

The party will stay in the field until July 17, when it will return to camps for two weeks to be devoted to studying and cataloging the finds.

A University of Illinois archeological group works in this state every other year, and in Arizona in the alternate year to give students opportunity for experience in both woodland and desert archeology.

William Beeson, 1101 S. Main St., Paris, Ill., will be field assistant to Prof. McGregor on the expedition. He was a student member of the party working in Illinois two years ago and in Arizona last year.

Students this year will be Ellen Abbott, Carbondale; R. Gene Brasel, Carmi; William F. Hanks, Champaign; Nancy Engle, Chicago; Harry

C. Hendrickson, Chicago; William H. Sorensen, Chicago; William M. Blaine, Inkside; William H. Brown, Laurel, Miss.; Erich H. Schultdt Jr., Hackensack, N. J.; and Jerzy Zaborski, Montreal, Canada.

Esther Murphy Named Woodson Auxiliary Head

Charles Favored To Regain Crown

Challenger Defies Ring Tradition In Tonight's Fight With Jersey Joe

Prelims at 7:30 p.m.

Radio—American Broadcasting system.

Rain date—Friday, June 6.

Weather forecast—Fair and cool.

Philadelphia, June 4.—(P)—Favored Edward Charles defies ring tradition in his bid to become the first former heavyweight boxing champion to regain the crown.

Standing squarely in his path is 36-year-old Jersey Joe Walcott of Camden, N.J., making his first defense of the title he won from Charles on a seventh round knock-out last July.

After a slow start, interest mounted in the fourth match of the Walcott-Charles "series." Promoter Herman Taylor now predicts a crowd of 35,000 and a gate of $250,000, plus another $175,000 for television and radio rights for the 9 p.m. (CDT) championship scrap.

Only a small fraction of the 120,000 who jammed this same stadium to watch Gene Tunney lift Jack Dempsey's title 26 years ago will be on hand. But many times that number will watch and listen on TV (NBC) and radio (ABC). There will be a 75-mile TV blackout of the Philadelphia area.

Set Rain Date

Fair weather is predicted for the show. If it should rain, the bout will be staged Friday night with the same TV setup.

The betting price was reported dropping from an early 3 to 1 favoring Charles to about 2 to 1 with Walcott money putting in an appearance.

Charles, heaviest of his career at about 192 pounds, loosened up briefly at his Pleasantville, N.J., training quarters today. Walcott took a walk at Atlantic City, N.J. Both will remain at their seashore camps until tomorrow, driving in for the weigh-in at 11:30 a.m. (CDT) at the arena. Walcott is expected to weigh 185, about his normal weight.

The weight situation had some of the experts wary of Charles. At the Monday physical exams he scaled 186. He explained later he took two or three glasses of water before he got on the scales.

Even at 182, Charles will be 10 full pounds heavier than he was at Pittsburgh when he lost the championship. Ray Arcel and Jimmy Brown, his trainers, believe the ex-champ from Cincinnati is stronger and punches harder at his new weight. They admit he will not be quite as fast.

Charles By A Knockout

The pick here is Charles on a knockout inside nine rounds, on the theory that Joe can't go on forever. He was the KO punch but may fade fast.

All ring tradition says Charles can't do it. Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jack Jeffries, Max Baer, Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis failed before him in his bids to win back boxing's richest prize. But most of them were old men when they tried it. Charles, 36, is eight years younger than the slope-shouldered old daddy of six children.

Charles fought three times since his knockout loss, knocking out Rex Layne and Joe Kahut and decisioning Joe Maxim.

To the winner will go a juicy September plum. If current negotiations for a July match between Rocky Marciano and Harry Matthews are completed the winner will fight the Charles-Walcott survivor.

Yankees Climb Into 3rd Place, Whip Chisox 6-3

New York, June 4.—(P)—The upsurging New York Yankees climbed into third place today, defeating the Chicago White Sox, 6-3 behind the steady pitching of Eddie Lopat.

The cagey southpaw, making his first start since May 18, limited the White Sox to seven hits and registered his second victory as the Yanks took their sixth game in as many starts against Chicago. The triumph boosted the Yanks to within a game and a half behind the pace-setting Boston Red Sox, who defeated Cleveland, 13-11.

Manager Paul Richards, hoping to gain his first triumph over the world champions, nominated Joe Dobson. The Yankees, however, slammed the 35-year-old veteran for all their 13 hits before sending him to the showers in the sixth with his third defeat. He has won seven.

Redbirds Breeze To 6-0 Victory Over Braves

St. Louis, June 4.—(P)—Cloyd Boyer, a sore-armed pitcher most of last season, pitched his second 1952 shutout tonight as the St. Louis Cardinals took advantage of wildness by two Boston pitchers to breeze to a 6-0 victory, breaking the Braves' three-game winning streak. The 24-year-old Boyer allowed only four hits.

Only one Boston batter, leadoff man Sam Jethroe, who reached base on an error and took third on a single by Sid Gordon, passed first against the Redbird right-hander. They struck out seven batters and walked none. Boyer retired 21 of the last 22 men he faced.

By contrast, both right-hander Dick Donovan, Boston's starter, and lefty Bob Chipman, his first replacement, were so wild that the Cardinals needed only two hits to score their first five runs. St. Louis eventually finished with eight hits, including two by Boyer.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

Beardstown has been awarded the Regional softball tournament by the Illinois Amateur Softball Association president Byron F. Hogan. It was announced yesterday. The Cass county river town has found softball increasingly popular the past few years and offered attendance at its invitational tourney as proof. With $11,000 steel grandstand for the fans' comfort and a newly lighted park to lure players, little else was needed as bait to snag the big tournament.

Beardstown thus replaces Macomb as a popular softball site in that particular area. Winners and runners-up of the Jacksonville, Macomb and one more sectional tournament (site to be named) will join the Quincy Sectional champion and host city team from Beardstown to make up an 8-team tournament.

Five Regionals will be held over the State. Winners of these tournaments will gather at Nichols Park in Jacksonville for the state championship tournament from August 22-25.

The Jacksonville Sectional will have to be moved up to the week of August 4-11. It has been decided by ASA moguls, in order to mesh with the Beardstown Regional which will be conducted from August 13-17. That leaves little margin for rainouts.

Both Beardstown and Macomb have gotten off to a slow start with their softball slates this season. Lewis Elevator's nine of Jacksonville will travel to Macomb Friday night to play the park opener against the Moose. Beardstown is working up a four-team league involving clubs from Arenzville, Virginia and the home town.

Jacksonville officials are somewhat worried about the noticeable decrease in attendance at Nichols Park this first week of regular action. The Chicago Hot Tents may play here Saturday night, June 14. If they won't draw, the boys will have real cause for worry.

Wood Phillips has announced the local qualifiers for the Nichols Park Open golf tournament. Local golfers still have through Sunday, June 8th to post their scores, he reminds. Defending champion Floyd Craft and runner-up Homer Mitchell automatically qualify for the championship flight. Others in order: Jim Buckley 67, Vince Maloney, the city champ, 68, Bill Doyle 71, Ken Litchfield 71, Gary Birdsong 73, Forrest Devore 74, Basil Sorrells 75, Clarence Worrall 78, Spike Wilson 78, Clark Reynolds 79, Mike Reynolds 80, J. H. Stark 81, Jim Blesse 81, Clarence Crouse 83, Bob Black 85, Bob Maloney 87.

The Journal-Courier today begins the publication of a series of six cartoon panels illustrating simple, common-sense rules of water safety.

For the most part, these rules are things people should know without being told. But the many people who drown needlessly each year attest to the fact that the rules are ignored.

That is probably because everyone thinks he is an exception. What happens to the other fellow can't possibly happen to you. So you go ahead and take chances, foolish chances, silly chances, childish chances. Then you find out you aren't an exception. But maybe then it is too late.

The rules we are publishing were developed by the Y.M.C.A. from its 57 years of experience in swimming and water safety. You can memorize these rules about as quickly as you can read them. But they won't do you any good unless you, and your family and your friends obey them.

Stewart Nine Wins Two At Nichols Park

Games Tonight

United Surplus vs. Ebenezer (6 p.m.)

Rogerson Coal vs. White Hall (7:15 p.m.)

Greenfield vs. Dixon (8:30 p.m.)

The Stewart Cozy Dog softball team, composed mostly of Jacksonville high school baseball players, scored a double again over two out of town teams at Nichols Park last night.

The Stewart nine whipped Manchester 16-6 in the preliminary when lanky pitcher Don Hazelrigg set the Scott county club down with one hit. Manchester runs were scored in the first two innings on walks by Hazelrigg and errors by his backers.

When the One Day Cleaner club of Springfield failed to show up for the second game, the Cozy Dogs met Greenfield and whipped the A league aggregation 12-3. Don Reynolds pitched this one for the young ball club and gave up just five hits. One of the hits was a three run homer by McCarthy in the third inning.

Roy Osborne, Greenfield pitcher,

was tagged for 14 hits by the Cozy Dogs.

Rice and McNeese pitched for Manchester in the first game.

New Red Sox Pay Quick Dividend With 13-11 Win

Boston, June 4.—(P)—The Boston Red Sox drew a quick dividend today from the new talent obtained in yesterday's five-for-four trade with Detroit as they regained the American league's top rung by ousting the Cleveland Indians with a boisterous 13-11 victory.

Dizzy Trout, the newly acquired relief pitching specialist, drew credit for the win. Lefty Mel Parnell, who has not gained a decision over the Indians since late 1949, faltered in the fifth inning after being given a 9-4 lead.

Larry Doby's spectacular feat of hitting for the cycle in five batting tries—which provided the Indians with six of their runs—had to be recorded as a futile gesture in his teammate's books.

George Kell, key man in the million dollar swap with the Tigers, made his Red Sox debut at third base and blasted Steve Gromek, third of the four Cleveland pitchers in action, for a two-run homer in the fifth that broke a 9-9 tie.

Clubbed Tiger outfielder Hot Evers clubbed starter Bob Feller for his initial 1952 home run on one base as the Red Sox exploded for five runs in the second frame.

The Red Sox totaled 15 hits, including five consecutive singles by Billy Goodman.

The Red Sox blasted Feller for six runs on as many hits and a base on balls before he retired with none out in the second inning.

Parnell permitted the Indians to manufacture seven runs on only four hits in four full innings. But those blows included Doby's first inning homer and his third inning two-bagger.

Doby blasted his triple immediately after Al Rosen, the first batter to face Trout, lofted a fly that Ken Wood lost in the sun in right-center. Trout made Doby pop to shortstop Junior Stephens on his fourth try but Larry completed his cycle by opening the ninth with a sharp single to right.

Dodgers Score 7-4 Win Over Punchless Bucs

Pittsburgh, June 4.—(P)—Jackie Robinson hit a single, double and home run tonight to lead the first place Brooklyn Dodgers to a 7-4 win over the punchless Pittsburgh Pirates. Duke Snider also homered for the Dodgers to help the front runners increase their lead over the second place New York Giants to two full games. Ralph Kiner smashed his eighth homer of the season to account for two of the Pirates' three runs.

Pitcher Carl Erskine, relieved in the ninth by Bill Loes when the Pirates scored their final run, was credited with his fourth win against defeat. Bobby Friend was charged with his sixth loss against three wins for the Pirates who now have lost seven in a row to the Dodgers this season.

Catcher Roy Campanella, returning to the Dodger lineup for the first time since May 23, contributed to the attack with two singles. He batted with an ingenious "sling" on his injured right hand—the gadget enabling him to grasp a bat easier.

Reds Win 10-8 Over Phillies In Wild Game

Cincinnati, June 4.—(P)—The Cincinnati Reds blew a fat seven run lead and then bounced back for two more runs and a 10-8 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies tonight. Relief pitcher Frank Smith got credit for winning the game, his second in as many nights.

The side-arm right hander didn't allow a hit in three and a third innings to go with last night's relief stint in which he permitted only one safe blow in six frames.

Willard Marshall, obtained only yesterday in a deal with the Boston Braves, got a double and a home run in his first appearance in a Cincinnati uniform and he and Grady Hatton combined to drive in two winning Redleg runs in the eighth.

Belmont Stakes Gains Additional Starter, But 2 Colts Withdraw

By John Chandler

New York, June 4.—(P)—The 84th Belmont Stakes gained an additional starter today, Olympic, but lost Gold Command and there is a chance Master Fiddle may be withdrawn from the big one hundred grander because of an injury to his left front foot.

Latest developments from the sprawling Long Island race course showed a field of eight will go in the mile and one half "test of the champion" Saturday afternoon. Olympic, Fred Hooper's English-bred colt, was declared ready after a good workout this morning.

Nothing has developed, however, to disturb the favorite's role held by Arthur W. Abbott's Blue Man, winner of the Preckness and third back of Hill Gail and Sub Fleet in the Kentucky Derby.

Actually, Gold Command never had been seriously considered as a Belmont starter, said Trainer Sylvester C. V. Whitney's colt.

"He's not big enough to carry that kind of weight against those other horses," Veitch declared. All starters in the Derby-Preckness-Belmont triple crown pack an equal 126 pounds.

Right after Gold Command finished ninth in the Derby, May 3, Veitch withdrew him from the Preckness two weeks later and said he also would miss the Belmont.

There had been persistent reports for several days, however, that Gold Command would go Saturday, until Veitch spiked the idea.

Master Fiddle, from the Myhelyn stable of Nicholas Martini and Meyer Mazor, apparently bruised his foot last Saturday in the Peter Pan Handicap—won by the Cain Roy's stable's Armageddon.

"He had a little soreness, but it seems to be improving," said Martini after watching the colt gallop a mile at Jamaica this morning.

"He may have stepped on something and bruised his foot," Dave Gorman (his jockey) said the horse was trying to lug in a little Saturday, apparently trying to keep the weight out of that left front foot. If he's right Saturday, he'll put up a big race. But, I won't run him if he isn't one hundred per cent. We can tell more by Friday."

Certain Starter

Ivan Parke, Olympic's trainer, said the British invader was a certain starter after working out a mile and one eighth in 1:56 flat. The chestnut son of Big Game, once raced by the late King George VI, finished strongly. He was an uncertainty after running fourth in the Peter Pan.

Jockey assignments are almost complete—excepting for the Belair stud's Golden Gloves. Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, who has saddled winners of five Belmont winners for William Woodward's Belair, wanted Ted Atkinson or Gorman.

Atkinson will ride Olympic, however, and Gorman depends on the status of Master Fiddle. Nick Wall, the Boston veteran, rode Golden Gloves in the Peter Pan.

Conn McCready rides Blue Man, with Eddie Arcaro seeking his fifth Belmont on Mrs. W. M. Jeffords' Zne Count, Ray York aboard Armageddon, Steve Brooks on Dixiana's Sub Fleet, and Eric Guerin on Isidor Bieber's King Jolie.

Expect Russian Women To Set Olympic Marks

By Eddy Gilmore

Moscow, June 4.—(P)—The announcement in Helsinki yesterday that Soviet Russia will participate in the Olympic summer games for the first time in history apparently erases all doubt about the Soviet's provisional acceptance.

Up to now, the Russians had indicated they would be present but it was not said so officially.

The announcement by the Olympic committee presumably will be given wide publicity here. In Helsinki it was announced that Russia would compete in every Olympic event except field hockey.

This decision means that the USSR will send a large, representative group of men and women to the Finnish capital and anyone familiar with athletics here knows they will make a fine showing.

Teams have been in training for some months in several sports and newspapers in Moscow and other large cities have been calling for the athletes to put forth extra efforts in view of the coming international competitions.

The Soviet women especially are expected to threaten several world records and, judging by their performances at home and in international meets, two or three may post performances that may stand as Olympic and world records for a long time.

Numerous American factories turn out 10,000 watches a day, or more than 3,000,000 annually.

Bob Rush Wins 7th Straight For Cubs 6-2

Chicago, June 4.—(P)—Bob Rush hurled his seventh straight victory with a six-hit job against the second-place New York Giants that gave the Chicago Cubs a 6-2 decision today.

The 6 foot 5 right-hander missed a chance to tie a National league record of four consecutive shutouts when the Giants clipped two runs in the fourth inning with the aid of Gene Hermanski's throwing error.

Except for that, the South Bend buzzsaw was in complete charge, yielding two hits in the last five rounds and facing only 17 batters. He fanned a total of seven batters to grab the league lead in strikeouts with a bag of 53.

The victory was the speedballer's eighth against two losses and his second of the campaign over the Giants who have licked the Cubs 12 times out of their last 15 meetings, including a humiliating 17-4 romp yesterday.

Johnny Saxton, Welter Contender, Wins 29th Fight

Chicago, June 4.—(P)—Undefeated Johnny Saxton, fourth ranking welterweight contender, won his 29th consecutive victory tonight in a unanimous ten round decision over Luther Rawlings in Chicago Stadium.

Rawlings, towering five feet, 11½ is the No. 2 contender for the lightweight championship. Saxton crowded in close and speared Rawlings with lefthooks to the body and head, driving Rawlings repeatedly to the ropes to escape.

Saxton weighed 147, the welterweight limit, Rawlings 144½.

The nationally televised bout drew only 2,411 paying ringiders, smallest crowd of the 1952 Stadium season, with gross receipts at $7,191.

Bobby Shantz Wins Number 9, Beats Tigers 4-3

Philadelphia, June 4.—(P)—Littie Bobby Shantz chalked up his ninth victory of the year tonight as he pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to a 4-3 win over the Detroit Tigers. A fourth inning homer by Eddie Joost with one on base clinched as the A's ran their win streak to five straight.

The pint-sized southpaw almost lost the game—which was delayed for an hour and 21 minutes by a steady drizzle—in the ninth.

John Groth singled and catcher Mat Batts walked. Shantz' second pitch to big Vic Wertz was a strike but the ball got away from catcher Joe Astroth and Groth crossed the plate from second to make the score 4 to 3. Shantz then went on to strike out Wertz and end the game.

Shantz scattered seven Detroit hits as he won his eighth straight. He has lost only once this season.

SOYBEANS SHOOT UP
AS MUCH AS 10 CENTS

Chicago, June 4—(P)—Soybeans shot up as much as ten cents, the daily limit, in a wild buying spree on the board of trade today.

All soybean contracts made new seasonal highs. The ten-cent gain was recorded about an hour before the close by both the July and September about an hour before the close by both the July and September contracts. Crude soybean oil gained 4 to 11 cents a pound. Bean oil futures and lard also were higher,
but only by a small amount.

Meanwhile, the basic grains could get nowhere. For most of the session they were fractionally to about a cent under the previous close.
They climbed a bit after beans had jumped ten cents, largely in sympathy with that market.

Heavy covering by previous short sellers was behind the soybean advance. They feared a scarcity of beans here for delivery purposes
when it became known that 166 cars were loaded out of this market overnight. It also was reported a steamer was loading 111,000 bushels for lake shipment.

Selling in the major grains reflected a private crop forecast of enormous wheat, corn and oats crops.
All wheat deliveries except December sank to new lows on the crop in the early trade. December touched its previous low.

Preliminary estimated receipts of grain in carlots: wheat 4, corn 107,
oats 6, rye 5, barley 7 and soybeans 17.

Wheat closed unchanged to a lower, July $2.31-1, corn 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, July $1.81-1, oats 1/4 higher,
July 76-1, rye 3/4 to 5 cents higher,
July $2.04-2.04, soybeans 9 1/2 to 10
cents higher, July $2.31, and lard 2 cents lower to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.30.

Atlantic coast line railroad was the focal point of the strength, and it gained between 5 and 7 points at times.

A number of other railroads in the higher priced category gained from 1 to around 3 points. Others added good fractions.

The remainder of the list spread out over a range of between 1 and 2 points higher to fractions lower with the great bulk of the list on the upside.

There was no boom tendency in the advance, however, with the volume of business restricted to an estimated 1,100,000 shares.

Steels held steady.

Higher were U. S. Steel, Studebaker, John-Manville, Douglas Aircraft, Standard Oil (NJ), and Allied Chemical.

U. S. Government bonds in the over-the-counter market were steady.

ROSAMUND YORKE put aside her cigarette. "I told Theodor to meet me here—later. He didn't seem to mind."

Her eyes lifted to Dr. Zimmer. He bent to kiss her, then dropped her hands and jerked away. "Not here! Anyone might come in at any moment. Don't torment me!"

He turned his back to her, walked straight toward one of the French windows and stood looking out into the garden. His hands on the grille that fenced the lower half of the window.

Instinctively Basil Willing and Frank Lloyd moved farther back into the shrubbery, then remembered how dark the garden must seem to anyone looking out from the brilliantly lighted room.

Rosamund watched Zimmer a moment, her head on one side, a flicker of smile at one corner of her mouth. Then she drifted forward, swinging a white scarf with an idle motion of one hand. She slipped the other hand through his arm.

She spoke softly, looking up at him. "Let's be happy."

"We're going to be—but we mustn't take foolish risks."

A raindrop splashed on the back of Basil's hand. At the same moment Zimmer said, "Rain. It rained the night that Duggan came here."

Otto appeared behind them. "Shall I shut the window, sir?"

"No. It's too hot for that."

"Why not try the effect of music?" said Rosamund. "That steady dripping is such a sad here when it rains."

Zimmer nodded. "It might help."

"One of the new long-playing records, sir?" suggested Otto.

"No. They're too serious. My guests must be gay." But his voice was not gay at all. Oddly, it was grim. He turned away from Rosamund and lit a cigarette. "Nothing more curious in its effect on people than music. Even gay music makes people sad. We must have something robust and robust as well as gay. Something that stirs the blood. Not the music that makes people think."

Rosamund laughed suddenly and clearly. "I have it—The Merry Widow!"

OTTO permitted himself a smile but Zimmer shook his head seriously. "Too nostalgic. And if they start thinking about the past, they'll start thinking about the future. That would never do."

"Gypsy music!" said Rosamund. "Again Zimmer shook his head. 'There's a sobbing note in that animal passion. I have it.' Now Zimmer himself laughed. 'American music! The most utterly unthinking music in the world! Music that has no association with the past or the future!'

"Very good, sir. I'll see to it at once."

Otto vanished. Zimmer extinguished his cigarette and sat down at the piano. He began to play loudly—some of that gypsy music he was afraid to let his guests hear.

Rosamund cried out furiously. "Don't!"

Music ceased in a crashing discord. Zimmer sat still.

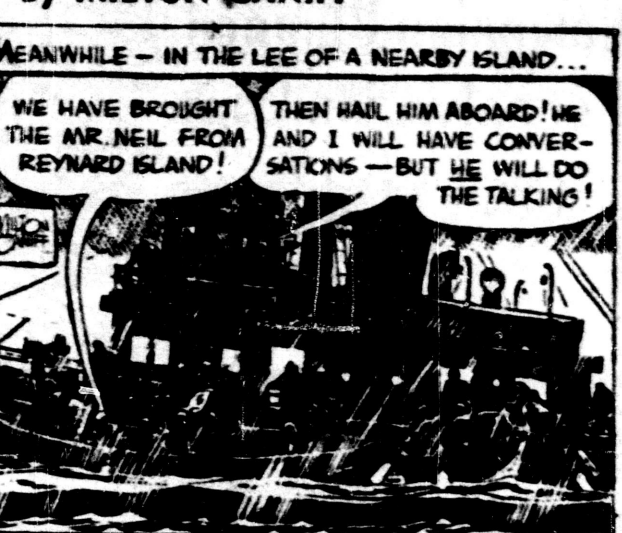

"I'm sorry," she crossed the room to the piano bench, put her hands on his shoulders. "I feel as if I were walking on explosives that might go off at any moment. Max, when are you going to retire?"

"I'll retire when I've made enough money," said Dr. Zimmer. "But you told me you would retire perhaps next year."

"That depends on how much money I make the next few months."

"I shall enjoy seeing South America and yet... Are you sure you want to settle there? Why can't we just go there for a while and then come back?"

Says Valley People Don't Want Water From Chicago Lake

Washington, June 4 — (AP) — Boosting Lake Michigan's flow into the Illinois waterway would not solve the Great Lakes high water problem and might someday hurt lake shipping, Congress was told today.

Bills under study by House public works committee would authorize a 2,000 cubic foot a second increase in flow, set at 1,500 cubic feet by the Supreme Court more than 20 years ago.

"Additional diversion will do little to afford protection to the property shores along the Great Lakes," the committee was told by Lynden Spencer, Cleveland, president of the Lake Carrier Association.

"Before any appreciable effect would be evident, the lake level, in following the cyclical fluctuation curve, will have fallen to a point where the danger to shore property will be absent."

Gwynne Myers, Ohio's assistant governor, agreed with this view. He said his state opposes permitting Illinois and the Chicago Sanitary district to take any more water out of the lake.

Myers said high waters were causing $22,000 damage annually for each mile of Ohio's 251 mile Lake Erie shoreline. But he recalled testimony by army engineers and other experts that increased diversion at Chicago would lower the level of the Great Lakes by only one inch in 10 years.

Although this would not be enough to hurt lake shipping under present high water conditions, he said a permanent increase in the diversion rate might prove detrimental in the future when the lake levels go down.

He said the Great Lakes appear to have reached their peak level and may start to drop. He said the natural drop will be "sooner and faster" than any fall that could result from additional diversion.

Rep. Velde (R-Ill.) said residents in the Illinois River valley contend that increasing the diversion rate would contaminate the stream with Chicago sewage. He added:

"This is an attempt on the part of Chicago not to lower the lake level, but to increase facilities for transportation on the Illinois river, but to get rid of more of their filth and slime."

House To House Campaign Planned For Salvation Army

The first meeting of the Residential Division in the Salvation Army $100,000 building fund campaign was held Wednesday in the campaign office in the Dunlap hotel.

Miss Grace Fitch, chairman, called the meeting to discuss plans for soliciting all the residents in Jacksonville. The plans call for the kick-off to be held Tuesday, June 17, at the Youth Center at 2 p.m.

The residence solicitation is to be concluded in one week so that the final report of the division will be Tuesday, June 24. The plans also call for each ward major to enlist 15 captains to head teams of five workers each who will cover the ward block by block, and house by house.

"In limiting the solicitation to one week," Miss Fitch said, "it is hoped to spare the workers the burden of a long drawn-out effort. Since this is a short period in which to conduct the residence solicitation we hope that all individuals will have made up their minds about how much they are going to give prior to the worker's calling, and in this way reduce the number of callbacks that the worker will have to make."

"We realize that many of the men of the household will have already given at their place of business, but since this is a 'once in a lifetime' drive and will not occur again for many years, it will be a wonderful thing if each one of the housewives will plan to give something out of her own household budget over and above that which her husband has already given."

"Since this is a pledge campaign and donors have three years in which to pay, I'm sure that every one will do their utmost to give generously to the Salvation Army that has served our community unselfishly for the past 63 years without ever asking for funds with which to build."

The majors who attended the meeting were Mrs. Wendell Dyringer, first ward; Mrs. W. O. Randall, second ward; Miss Clara Cobb, third ward; Mrs. Mary M. Jameson, fourth ward; and Mrs. Dean Strand, South Jacksonville.
